Democratic Solons' Bill Faces Delay

Highway Speedup Accord Reached As Final Action Due

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican leaders forced a slowdown today in a Democratic drive to rush action on anti-recession measures before Congress starts a 10-day Easter vacation.

Postponed until the lawmakers return April 14 was Senate consideration of a bill to authorize a billion dollars for long-term, low-interest loans for local public works.

Byrd Favors Delay
Senators Byrd (D-Va.) and Lausche (D-Ohio) sided with the Republicans in favor of delaying action. Senators Cooper (R-Ky.) and Revercomb (R-W.Va.) voted with the Democrats, who lost 41-39.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California took the initiative in the move after the matter was discussed at a White House conference of GOP leaders with President Eisenhower.

With the public works measure laid aside, the Senate agreed to take up today a compromise bill approved by the House to authorize future construction of 1½ billion dollars worth of water projects.

Housing, highways and government spending figured elsewhere in anti-recession legislation, while outside Congress the Federal Reserve Board reported the first slight drop in total consumer installment credit since late 1954. Autos and major appliances led the decline.

A Senate-House conference committee reached agreement on a compromise highway construction speedup bill designed to provide thousands of new jobs to fight the recession.

Final action is scheduled in both the Senate and the House tomorrow.

Housing Measure Signed
Kept in the bill, which carries an extra $1,850,000,000 of federal-state funds over present programs, was a hotly disputed provision for regulation of billboards along the 41,000-mile system of expressways.

Another bill intended to give the economy a lift, a $1,850,000,000 housing measure, was signed by Eisenhower despite his criticism of some features of it.

Soviet Boss In Budapest
BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev flew to Budapest today and said the Soviet Union and Hungary are firmly united against the "imperialists."

Hungarian Communist party chief Janos Kadar, installed in power by the Soviet troops who crushed the 1956 anti-Soviet rebellion, replied with praise of the Soviet offer to halt nuclear weapons tests. He said it was "one of the greatest acts of peace of our age."

A crowd of about 4,000 persons welcomed the Soviet leader on his first trip abroad since he became premier of the Soviet Union Monday. Heavy security forces lined the 10 miles of highway from Budapest to the airport.

Flipped Coin Decides Who To Get Anti-Cancer Drugs
CHICAGO (AP)—The flip of a coin is deciding some cancer patients' chances for longer life.

The coin decides whether they will or won't be given anticancer drugs at the time of cancer surgery. The drugs are aimed at killing escaping cancer cells which could start new cancers elsewhere in the body later.

Doctors and scientists think such use of drugs greatly boosts the chance for cure, for killing all the cancer. The drugs do marvelously well in animals.

But they don't know whether it's wise, or indeed essential, to use the drugs along with surgery in humans.

House Probe Of FCC Due For Windup

WASHINGTON (AP)—House investigators called two former Federal Communications Commission members today in what was expected to be the windup of the marathon FCC inquiry.

The witnesses, former FCC Chairman George McConaughy and Frieda Hennock, were summoned to tell of their contacts with the broadcasting industry the FCC regulates.

McConaughy is a Republican appointed by President Eisenhower and Miss Hennock a Democrat named by former President Truman.

In previous testimony before the special House subcommittee, present FCC members denied any wrongdoing in connection with allegations of undue fraternization with the industry.

Subcommittee Chairman Harris (D-Ark.) expressed hope today's testimony would bring an end to the hearings on the misconduct charges — made earlier this year in a confidential staff memorandum.

The committee met behind closed doors yesterday to discuss an interim report.

"We are getting down to concrete proposals and language, and a lot of progress is being made," Harris reported.

Dixie Mission, Scene Of Racial Row, To Reopen
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The small Catholic mission of St. Cecilia's at nearby Jesuit Bend, scene of a racially tinted row more than two years ago, will reopen Sunday for Easter services. A white priest will say Mass.

The mission, about 20 miles south of New Orleans, was closed after some parishioners objected to a Negro priest, the Rev. Gerald Lewis, assigned there Oct. 2, 1955.

Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel said in a letter: "We cannot permit the closed chapel to stand forever as a symbol of resistance to the authority of the church."

Bias In Housing Banned By Law
NEW YORK (AP)—A new anti-bias housing law—first of its kind in the nation—is now in effect here.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Five-day forecast: Temperature will average near normal for period. Somewhat warmer Friday and Saturday with little change the remainder of the period. Fair weather most of the period except for a chance of showers on Saturday. Normal highs are in the 50s and low 60s. Lows are in the 30s and low 40s.

U. S. Farmer Gross Income Seen Slashed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farm leaders estimated today President Eisenhower's veto of legislation to freeze farm price supports at not less than 1957 level could reduce farmers' gross income from affected products by half a billion dollars this year.

By gross income is meant the amount producers received before paying production costs.

But this does not necessarily mean that total gross farm income would be reduced by that amount. It would be possible for returns from unsupported products—such as hogs, cattle, sheep, lambs, poultry, fruits and vegetables—to offset, if not exceed, the potential income reductions on the supported commodities.

The estimate of the lower income from supported commodities is based upon the assumption that market prices will drop as much as the price supports. Special economic factors could enter the picture to hold prices of some or all the products above the support levels, in which case the reduction would be smaller if not eliminated.

Housing Bill Due To Hike Construction

WASHINGTON (AP)—Builders and housing officials predicted today the $1,850,000,000 Housing Act will help push home construction, but emphasized it is no panacea for the business recession.

President Eisenhower signed the Democratic-sponsored bill with a demand that Congress quickly correct some provisions which, he said, conflict with the private enterprise system and "burden the law permits. Some builders have notified FHA they were waiting to advertise the new terms to prospective home buyers.

The 3 per cent minimum down payment now applies to FHA-insured mortgages of up to $13,500, instead of $10,000. On mortgage sums above $13,500, the down payment remains at 15 per cent and, above $16,000, 20 per cent.

This means that a $14,000 dwelling, which FHA calls the "typical" new house, may be bought for $500 down instead of $900.

FHA Commissioner Norman P. Mason said the lower down payment and the removal of discount controls would be "a boon to home buyers and the home building industry."

Barbara Burns Again Arrested On Dope Charge
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The 20-year-old daughter of Bob Burns, the late bawdy-playing comedian, was back in jail today.

Barbara Ann Burns was arrested yesterday — the second time since Sunday — on suspicion of violating the federal law requiring narcotics addicts to register on Sunday and Monday on the Israeli-Syrian border.

The Middle East News Agency said the U.A.R. will hold up a request for a Security Council meeting on the clashes because the U.N. Armistice Commission has not succeeded in quieting things. The report added that the request will be kept on file, however.

'Minor' Pentagon Shakeup Seen
WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration's toned-down defense reorganization and outer space control programs appeared likely to attract substantial two-party backing in Congress.

Although the full outlined reorganization was to be decided by the President Eisenhower, leading legislators said on the basis of preliminary briefings they foresee congressional approval of what he regards the reorganization plan as "practical and helpful."

Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass.) said he regards the reorganization plan as "practical and helpful." He said he thinks Congress will approve its major points.

Agreeing on this score, Sen. Mansfield of Montana, acting Democratic leader, also applauded Eisenhower's proposal to create an independent government agency to supervise space developments in the civilian and purely scientific field.

Rain Brings West Coast Flood Peril

Hundreds Forced To Flee Homes, Frisco Section Is Hard Hit

By The Associated Press

Danger of floods in sections of California appeared increasing today as more precipitation added to the already recent heavy falls of rain and snow.

Across the continent, the stormy weather which hammered the Northeast Coast appeared diminishing. However, strong winds and some rain continued during the night near the New England coast.

In other parts of the country, wide areas of precipitation were reported in the Western two thirds but mostly clear skies and warmer temperatures were indicated in the Eastern third.

Some 900 residents of Alviso, Calif., 35 miles southeast of San Francisco, were forced from their homes by floodwaters of the Guadalupe River. Eight rivers on the California coast were bankful or overflowing. The San Francisco area is having its wettest season in nearly 70 years.

More Rain Forecast In Flooded Sections

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Without time to mop up after one heavy drenching, much of California braced for another today. Rivers were already brimming, lowlands flooded and coastal highways cut by slides.

A combination of high tide and everflow from the Guadalupe River forced evacuation last night of some 800 residents of Alviso, one of the state's oldest and traditionally one of its wettest communities.

Thirty families stood their soggy ground in the town at the southern end of San Francisco Bay. The rest moved into motels and Red Cross shelters in the nearby San Jose area. A number of Alviso homes were flooded.

Besides the Guadalupe, seven other rivers were bankful or overflowing — the Kaweah, St. Johns, San Joaquin, Fresno, Salinas, Chowchilla and Carmel Valley.

The Weather Bureau said a new storm would hit the northern half of the state today. Gale warnings were up from Monterey, 100 miles south of San Francisco, to the Oregon coast.

Wettest In Many Years
Twenty-four hour rainfall by 2 a.m. today measured 1.40 inches at San Francisco, 1.63 at Fort Bragg, 1.51 at Sacramento, 1.52 at Santa Maria, 1.02 at Los Angeles and 1.08 at Fresno.

San Francisco has had its wettest season since 1889-90, a total of 114.4 inches.

Israel-Syria Border Quiet
CAIRO (AP)—The situation on the Israeli-Syrian border was easier today after a day without fighting. But Israel made plain she intends to go ahead with the Lake Huleh reclamation project, raising the possibility of new clashes.

Mahmoud Fawzi, foreign minister of the United Arab Republic, said he would leave Zurich today to talk with U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld about the fighting on the Israeli-Syrian border.

The Middle East News Agency said the U.A.R. will hold up a request for a Security Council meeting on the clashes because the U.N. Armistice Commission has not succeeded in quieting things. The report added that the request will be kept on file, however.

Burned Vessel Hulk Floating
LONDON (AP)—The burned-out hulk of the Norwegian immigrant ship Skaubryn today was reported still afloat in the Indian Ocean off Africa.

The Skaubryn's 1,200 passengers and crew, including 200 children, are being taken to the British Red Sea port of Aden aboard the Italian liner Roma.

The 9,786-ton ship, en route to Australia with more than 1,000 migrants, burned Monday night after an engine room explosion.

Green Urges U. S. Attempt To Get Along With Nasser
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Green (D-R.I.) challenged the administration's policy of "correcting some of our past mistakes" in the Middle East by trying to get along with Egypt's President Nasser.

At the same time, Green suggested the United States be prepared to provide aid to Nasser's new United Arab Republic to replace assistance Nasser gets from the Soviet Union.

Green, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said it seems clear to him it is desirable to get along with the Egyptian leader "whether or not we like that prospect" although aggression, the United States has should be made clear to him, no real Middle East policy at all.

First Blows Landed In Cuban Rebellion

By LARRY ALLEN

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Cuba's second largest city, Santiago, was virtually isolated from the rest of the island today by opening blows of rebel leader Fidel Castro's long-promised "all-out" effort to overthrow President Fulgencio Batista.

Castro launched his offensive by stepping up attacks on transport and communications in Cuba's easternmost Oriente province, where his 16-month-old guerrilla war is strongest.

Communications continued to be normal outside Oriente. Havana businesses operated as usual. Batista's troops and police, on almost continuous alert for months, braced to meet the rebel threat.

Castro supporters said total war against Batista would be extended to the rest of Cuba after midnight Saturday, the rebel deadline for the President to quit.

Roving rebel bands cut telephone lines to Santiago, fired upon transport moving in the area and spread oil and nails on the roads. Most bus and rail workers stopped work around Santiago and highways were almost deserted.

Rebels blew up eight high-voltage towers in the province and burned a Sinclair Oil Co. gasoline tank trailer. Clashes between government troops and rebels were reported near Santiago, Varadero and Holguin.

The 31-year-old rebel leader plans to call a general strike. Some sugar mill employees in Oriente province already have joined transport workers in walk-outs.

Batista obtained from Congress further dictatorial powers for 45 days. He was authorized to increase the armed forces and to take all necessary steps to keep the nation's transport and communications operating, including a declaration of martial law.

Gives View U.S. Should Seek Accord

Points To Effort In Past To Reach Disarm Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today Russia's nuclear test ban announcement is just a gimmick which should not be taken seriously.

Eisenhower told a news conference that evaluation does not mean, however, we should stop trying to find a common ground for agreement with the Soviet Union.

He recalled repeated U. S. efforts over the years seeking agreement with the Soviet Union in the disarmament, nuclear test and other fields.

And he said we should keep on trying to win agreement.

Denies Negative Stand
The President said he does not believe there is any justification for labeling the U. S. position a negative one just because it is being firm in the interest of the United States and the rest of the world.

Some critics in Congress and elsewhere have contended the administration's position has been negative.

A good deal of the questioning at the news conference dealt with whether the United States could have gained if it had labeled the Soviet test ban as just propaganda in advance of the Soviet announcement.

The announcement had been widely forecast.

Eisenhower replied that was considered by this government—along with the possibility of the United States making the first move toward banning tests—but that both proposals were rejected on the ground that the Soviet Union was only seeking to gain from a propaganda standpoint.

Eisenhower was in a cheerful, jaunty mood at the conference which also dealt with these other matters:

RECESSION—Eisenhower said anew the government must give very careful thought to the idea of an anti-recession tax cut. He added forcefully that if we don't approach the problem of the business slump very seriously, we will build trouble for ourselves in the future. Such trouble, the President said, would make the current recession look small by comparison.

Speaking of the $1,850,000,000 housing bill he signed yesterday, Eisenhower repeated his criticism of some provisions. The main thing needed, he said, is to encourage private spending. He said business can't be stimulated just by expenditure of federal money.

Urges Adequate Study
As for whether he thinks Congress is moving too fast in passage of anti-recession bills, Eisenhower said they certainly aren't being enacted too hastily if the

Top Fugitive Reported To Be Bigamist

Nabbed By FBI In Baltimore, Going Back To Tennessee

BALTIMORE (AP)—Tennessee authorities are to leave Baltimore today with Eugene R. McCracken, 43, who was one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men.

McCracken, who reportedly has two wives, was arrested here last Thursday. A citizen saw a photo of him in a Baltimore newspaper and notified the FBI.

He had been sought since October 1955 when he escaped from the Tennessee state penitentiary while serving a life term for the murder of John Mills, a Kingsport, Tenn., police officer.

McCracken later adopted the name Richard George Kirkman and married a Baltimore woman in 1956. For the past several months, he had been employed as a male nurse.

His wife said she knew nothing of his past and "he was a most wonderful person."

A woman in Kingsport, Tenn., told the Kingsport Times she was married to McCracken before he was sentenced to life imprisonment. She said they had two children and had not been divorced. The Times quoted her, "I don't begrudge him any happiness he might have had."

CROWNSVILLE, Md. (AP)—Anne Arundel County has a forgotten city no one knows.

It sprawls over 1,500 acres, its brick buildings visible only briefly to the motorist. Cattle browse on its farm, its 251 telephones maintain a link with the outside world. For 2,350 residents it is home, and for 800 employees who help operate its 71 buildings, it is a place to report daily.

Mammoth and unknown, it is for most people just a sign on the General's highway—Crownsville State Hospital.

To see Crownsville is to see an institution in flux. A visitor at this mental hospital for Negroes in Maryland will find no snakepit. State hospitals have changed since the days they once were branded as Maryland's shame, and Crownsville is changing with them.

To see the worst is perhaps to see building C and the top quarter of the building, there are signs of hope which would be absent a decade ago, or even two or three years ago.

It shows in various ways. One is the promise that the men on the fourth floor will receive an opportunity to join the more normal patients for trial periods to attempt their full recovery.

There is an indication in the doors, painted blue instead of green — a small but gratifying achievement. The patients decided they wanted different colors and under the hospital's new policy, were able to get them.

Another is the occupational therapy room, begun only last year by patients as an outcome of their new self-government program. This meant cutting their already jammed day room in two to provide space for weaving, ceramics and simple woodwork. For men who spend whole days on wooden benches and for whom boredom is a major obstacle to recovery, it already has proved invaluable.

"It's improved morale and lowered tensions," Joseph Lee, director of rehabilitation, said.

The good behavior of the men is impressive, and so is the cleanliness of the institution. But Crownsville remains overcrowded.

In one building, 648 patients are jammed into facilities designed for 280. This includes the ward for some feeble minded and gentle male cases. Dormitory beds are jammed so closely together patients have difficulty moving between them. Close to the roof in a converted attic 143 men occupy double decker beds on stifling summer nights.

These buildings—there are seven of this type—are tall, high ceiling stark structures built in the days when mental hospitals heeded large groups of people together. Crownsville is getting away from them as fast as it can.

A new type of hospital architecture is reflected in the seven modern low slung cottages, which house fewer patients. Officials believe they help speed recovery.

Authorities have requested the State Planning Commission to approve a 400-bed building to relieve overcrowded conditions for men.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Dark Underneath

THE CHANGE in authority in Saudi Arabia may not be as harmless a development for America as the State Department evidently wants us to believe. The department's version is that in virtually yielding power to Crown Prince Faisal, King Saud is simply putting formal seal on an arrangement that already exists. Faisal is said to have held this power as premier and foreign minister. It is contended further that Saud planned this move as part of an effort to give the Arabian government a broader base. He is said to feel the time has come to end his one-man rule.

FOR THESE reasons, Washington officials voice no alarm. Yet there is a possibility that our diplomats are taking this stand more as an expression of hope than anything else. Faisal is known to have little fondness for America and the West. There are signs he would like to draw his country closer to the new United Arab Republic headed by Egypt's President Nasser. Faisal and Saud are reported to have divided bitterly over Nasser, with Saud much opposed. Still another danger signal: Faisal by some accounts wants Saudi Arabia's oil royalties boosted from a present 50 per cent to roughly 57 per cent. The big Arabian American Oil Co. pays Saud $300 million a year right now for oil considered vital to Western defense.

EVERY WESTERN capital will be watching sharply for Faisal's first key moves. If he turns toward Nasser and away from the Iraq-Jordan Arab Federation which Saud favors, the West will be in for more trouble. So conceivably will be those critical oil supplies and possibly even our nuclear bomber base at Dhahran. It would be comforting to be able to accept the State Department's rosy picture. A nagging feeling exists in many quarters, however, that beneath those bright hues the new image of Saudi Arabia is somber and darkened.

New Life Of T. R.

THE GREAT example of a physically feeble individual who by sheer will power became exceptionally athletic is Theodore Roosevelt. The accomplishments he has determined made possible are narrated in the first volume of a new four-volume biography by Carlton Putnam. This covers his career down to 1886, when he was twenty-eight. His parents did not make the mistake of coddling him. Their teaching was enthusiastically accepted by the young man. When attacked by asthma, his reply was to take a 1,000-mile hunting trip through the north woods. When the doctor told him he had a weak heart, he exercised strenuously in the Wild West. Though often ill, he hunted down every species of big game in the West, captured desperadoes after an 11-day chase through a blizzard, and scaled the Matterhorn in the Swiss Alps. No wonder, with such grit, that Teddy Roosevelt became a popular hero. His part in our history is important enough to make Putnam's definitive biography of him a major historical work. Further installments will be awaited with interest.

Farm Prices

SOME LAWMAKERS are seeking to discredit the recent rise in farm prices, saying it is a "freak" resulting from weather conditions which led to reduced crop supplies. Whatever the soundness of that conclusion, it is a fact that farm prices for the newest recorded month advanced some 4 per cent. This is the third straight month an increase has occurred. This doesn't put farmers in any bright complexion, however, it resembles that which they occupied in the peak times of 1946, but it is an improvement. And perhaps we ought not to stuff our heads with only one mildly encouraging fact which tends to encourage us in the current political recession. The farmers' bona fide problems are still unsolved and the price rises in Congress and the Administration over how they should be approached. But there is no doubt that farmers are both encouraged and encouraged by the fact that they are not alone in the last weeks of 1957.

Twin Beds? Well, Some Folks Are Agin 'Em

NEW YORK — Whoever invented twin beds quite possibly had it in mind that their inhabitants should be twins. Not spouses.

This was a nice idea because twins, I hear tell from hall of a pair I know, like to feel quite close — but not too. Thus, bunk-like beds, separated by an area of independence, were ideal.

Now, of course, the twin bed movement has gotten out of hand. Psychologists blame it for everything from divorce to child abuse, and some double-bed manufacturers, probably referred to in the trade as ruddy-shad-dress, say that twin beds are as trying on a marriage as lumpy mattresses.

PRESUMABLY, a relatively small portion of United States couples still occupy the same bed — otherwise, why do they advertise dual-control blankets? — but it is a pinch that very few hotels offer these affectionate tourists what they want.

Friends of ours, for instance, report that in their travels they always seek out a "rather rundown" motel.

"The better hotels and motels all have twin beds," they claim bitterly. "They can get more money per room that way. Couples who are accustomed to sleeping together get a rough deal these days."

FOR AN explanation of this grievous lack of regard for amiable spouses, we went to Mary Morrison Kennedy of Boston. She is a graduate architect from MIT, and a housewife with 21,000 bedrooms to supervise. As architect-decorator for the Sheraton Hotel chain, she was in New York to "swank-up" their newest acquisition, the Park Avenue "Ambassador" — now called, "among the titled nose set, the "Sheraton-East."

"Twin beds," said Mrs. Kennedy politely but firmly, "are an absolute necessity in hotels."

"No one wants double beds any more — except for a very few people who have excessive girth. Like extra big men. They like room to stretch out more than a twin bed allows, and we try to reserve extra wide beds for them."

BUT COUPLES? Love and marriage?

"Oh, romance, you mean," Mrs. Kennedy flushed appropriately. "Well, surely every hotel has a room set aside for that: the bridal suite, we call it."

It must be assumed, she assumes, that after the honeymoon's over, most traveling couples prefer twin beds. Why, even the "presidential suite," with all its palatial rooms, makes no provision for a mutual meeting with Morpheus.

We relayed Mrs. Kennedy's information to our friends.

They stood stalwart and serene, two against the world. They said they would rather be right at night than President.

Tough Job For Nixon On So. American Tour

WASHINGTON, NEA — Vice President Richard M. Nixon faces a different kind of job when he heads for South America at the end of April. He has already started studying for it.

Most AIP good will missions are intended to cement international political relations. But there is nothing particularly hard about such relations between the United States and the South American republics today.

Nearly all of the political pot-boiling now going on over revolutions and elections is found in Central America and the West Indies. South America is where Nixon is going — a relatively quiet politically at the moment.

Its difficulties are predominantly economic. And the fact has apparently not yet registered on Washington.

AN EXAMPLE is furnished by the recent first meeting this year of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on Latin American Affairs. Sen. Wayne Morse is chairman.

Assistant Secretary of State for Latin American Affairs, Roy R. Rubottom went up to report with a carefully prepared statement on economic difficulties in the area. He was allowed to read it. Then it was promptly dropped.

Such a treatment as followed was completely on political and military affairs. What about the U.S. military aid programs for Latin America? Were U.S. military aid programs being used by the United States to support civil wars in countries like Cuba and Guatemala?

What are the secretary doing about the U.S. to supervise Latin American elections? What are the reasons for handoutting Cuban President Fulbright, Carlos Prío Socarrás, when he was to visit the United States? These were the things that seemed to bother the senators. But they were more backhanded than the questions.

Further, the political and economic situation in these countries are financially ruined wasn't seriously considered.

What has happened is that the U.S. recession has rubbed off first and hardest in Latin America. Half of its exports come to the United States. They were valued at four billion dollars last year. All this money was spent on U.S. exports.

Fifteen Latin American countries export coffee. It is the principal dollar-earner for five of them. When the price of coffee goes down, they all feel it.

Other major exports include copper, lead, zinc and oil, in addition to sugar and bananas from the Caribbean area.

Cuba last year was able to import purchases of U.S. manufactured goods only because the Cubans were able to sell sugar to Russia for dollars.

POSSIBILITY of U.S. tariff increases on copper, lead and zinc imports, to protect U.S. domestic producers, constantly hangs over the heads of Latin American nations.

Import quotas to protect U.S. producers against competition from Latin American oil have the same effect. This has principally at Venezuela.

So the job that Vice President Nixon faces on his South American swing is not an easy one.

He must convince the heads of the governments he visits that the United States is not trying to harm them.

Furthermore, he must explain that the United States is having some troubles of its own with mineral and agricultural overproduction and depressed prices.

The other half of the Nixon mission is to assure the good neighbors to the south that the United States will do anything it can to help them through this difficult period of worldwide economic readjustment.

Hunting accidents often come from both the gun and the hunter being loaded.

You lose friends sometimes because of the spectacles through which people see your character.

When either side of the family is always finding fault with the other it indicates they have one big fault of their own.

It's unfortunate but true that good things are not good for you when you are trying to take off weight.

There are times when what rats you gives you ulcers.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — All I can say to you bloods hanging around New York is that if you can't add two and two, don't fall for any pitch which involves a sort of game called chess, because this is the least in excitement. No matter what anybody tells you, bub, stay home.

A young man, all slim waist, bowtie and having a haircut looking as though a man whisked a scythe across the top of it, came breathing in with the pink of excitement in his cheeks and he says, "I have a terrific thing for you, a really terrific thing you have never done." And I said, "Look, there are lots of terrific things I have never done, like going over Niagara Falls in a cellophane bag. Speak up."

"This is the true battle of giants," he said. "You will have to see it with your own eyes, it will pop them out. You'll be fascinated!"

SO NOW I'M back where I belong and I am a dub at mathematics, a thing which I always knew well from childhood, and I could not learn the first play in a chess game if you pushed a gun at my middle and said, "Go." I fell for the pitch.

I drove nine blocks with this earnest young man and he was hubbubbing all the way to a place near Central Park South. We walked in and it was like Capulet's tomb: a lot of people but no one moving — not a muscle.

They all hunched down at little tables with carved wooden pieces on them and glowered at the surface of the table. They did not glower at each other. Only at the tables. It was a chess club.

"IT BECOMES vital and exciting," this young man said, and he pulled up a wooden chair that you could not sit in long without paralysis setting in and I took it. All right, they were playing. Every one hour and three minutes one of the two men would issue smoke from his nostrils and slowly push a carved wooden piece from one square to another. Then his opponent would wait an hour and three minutes and he would push a carved wooden piece to another square.

"How long has this intensive reenactment of Shiloh been going on?" I said, after three moves which ate up three hours and nine minutes.

"Sssh!" said the young man. "They are playing. Please."

THINGS began to quicken up, because one man made the next move in 19 minutes, and my young guide like to have died of excitement. He took me away about 25 feet from the players and whispered: "Now it's getting desperate!"

"Now it's getting desperate!" I asked. "When does the clutch come? When do they come to grips, man to man, jaw to jaw?" "This is a cerebral game," he said severely. "No physical evidence of encounter is ever countenanced."

"You talk like this game looks," I said. "What does it take to be a No. 1 man at this sport?"

"BRAINS," he said. "Certain calculated mathematic niceties plus a feel for battle. The greatest military men in history have played chess."

"Like? Alexander? Genghis Khan? Attila? Pancho Villa? Audie Murphy?"

"Greater," he said. "But some unsung."

"Never mind the tunes and the songs," I said. "Can I learn this diabolic pastime and pit myself against maybe MacArthur or whoever?"

"It takes a long time," he said, "thoroughly to play."

"Well, one thing is plain," I said, "you don't split any infinitives and from that I guess you are an up-up man in this lingo."

"Oh, no," he said. "I don't play. I am merely an enthusiast."

"You got right," I said, "and I'm going to leave you with the battle of the century. Call me on April 17th when they are finished and give me the cold results."

AND I AM BACK safely in a disorderly, paper-strewn little niche in an old newspaper building and I don't think one of us here has the brains to play this red-hot game, but I can tell you this: I'm real glad we don't. We'd never get the paper out.

No Cotton On Golf Course

WASHINGTON — Let us consider today a golf club that almost collected from the Agriculture Department a nice piece of change for not growing cotton on its fairways.

This interesting item came up among numerous others concerning the soil bank and alleged efforts by city slickers living in the country to pilfer it. Some apparently succeeded, according to the House Appropriations Committee, which sent investigators out to see who was collecting from Uncle Sam for not growing stuff on his land.

I'M NOT accusing the members of the Casa Grande Country Club near Phoenix, Ariz., of attempted thievery, you understand. Some of their land years ago was, indeed, planted in cotton. So when the government offered to pay farmers for not growing crops, the golfers offered uncle 22½ acres of their land for not growing the 1957 cotton crop. They signed a contract with the Agriculture Department, calling for it to pay them up to $2,362.50 for the cotton they didn't raise.

THERE WAS a large smell on about this. The District Attorney of Pima County finally grabbed the relevant papers and presented a case against the former county soil bank committee on these worthies resigned hurriedly to the Federal grand jury. It did not return an indictment.

The Agriculture Department cancelled the contract and informed the country club that its cotton allotment was zero, thus saving us taxpayers a couple of thousands and giving the Casa Grande members something to discuss for years at the 19th hole. Fair enough.

LET US consider now the naval ammunition depot at Hastings, Neb., which needed considerable space around it in case it blew up. The Nebraska sailors had so much land around their high explosives that they rented to 35 different farmers 46,271 acres.

The 35 farmers signed up with the government not to grow anything on 3,523 of these rented acres, and for sitting on their hands they received $74,906.25. The Omaha World Herald, as quoted by the Congressmen, said the government was paying its tenants more not to use its land than they paid the government to farm it.

We taxpayers would have been ahead of the game if the Navy had let its land grow into weeds: the Agriculture Department likewise would have achieved its purpose of cutting the size of the crops.

THIS WAS no isolated instance. Up and down the land, it developed, the military was leasing spare land to farmers, who leased it back to the Agriculture Department at a profit.

In Yell County, Arkansas, for instance, Winifred Hopper and Alfred Smith rented 543 acres of the Nimrod reservoir from the Army Engineer Corps for $285.

Then Winifred and Alfred subleased 16.9 acres to the Agriculture Department for not growing cotton for $811.20. That's not bad wages for not doing anything, and the Congressmen were shocked.

THEY LISTED dozens of similar deals, and one thing especially pleased Representative Jamie L. Whitten, chairman of the subcommittee. He said the general counsel's office in the Agriculture Department got $175,000 last year for the sole purpose of keeping soil bank deals legal. He said he'd observed no effort so far by the department to collect any of the money it spent for not growing things on land the government already owned.

Department officials said they appreciated his efforts in their behalf, that they'd have a report soon on the government's attempts to get some of its money back.

Hope And Belief

THE MOST persistent hope of mankind is the hope of eternal life. Since the beginning of recorded time, and probably during all the generations going back to our earliest ancestors, men have felt some intimation of immortality.

Long before the time of Christ, human beings dreamed of a life beyond the grave: they surmised that the spirit continues to live even when the body has returned to dust.

Their belief was strengthened by many things about them—the seed cast into the ground and springing to life, the stars winking out with the dawn and returning to brilliance at dusk, the living bird rising from the egg.

Then Jesus of Nazareth came with his gospel of love and his message of hope. He spoke of life eternal in the presence of God the loving Father. There was more than words. His followers told, and recorded for all posterity, how Jesus was crucified and placed in the tomb; they told of his resurrection.

The story they told has become the glorious focal point for mankind's hope and belief in immortality. This year, as for almost 2,000 years past, Christendom joins once again in joyous celebration of that hope and that belief.

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — I have been reading much of late that Washington, especially diplomatic-social Washington, is overrun with bores. I desire to challenge this as a loose-thinking libel. How can anyone at a typical capital function determine if anyone else is a bore? No one gets a chance to listen long enough to find out.

I speak from gallant personal experience. Every time I get a likely sucker backed into a corner and nicely measured for a haymaker on how I feel about the excise tax, or the east front of the Capitol, someone butts in long enough to allow the victim to escape.

THE COMPETITION is too keen for a would-be bore to achieve full boredom. They keep interrupting each other. Why only the other night at Perle Mesta's party for a few intimate strangers I started to bring Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy up to date on the missile situation when an old dowerer, in a chemise evening gown that made her look as if she was dragging around a concealed pig, butted in to push that she thought Explorer III was too thrilling for words.

This gave McElroy time to fire the second stage of his rocket and he was off into orbit before I could grab him again. I tried to interrupt after him, but every time he got to the apogee I was down in the perigee, and all I could get to talk to were a couple of perihelions heling around the bar.

The stories I have been reading quote the town's social secretaries, of which we seem to have a profusion greater than the cherry blossoms, as declaring they are waging an "increasing war" on the bores. The social secretaries just recently formed themselves into a club, with blackballing of bores as their major goal.

HERE ARE SOME actual bore-interrupted-by-bore discussions I overheard at Madame Mesta's:

Ponderous guy in tails, whose shirt front looked as if it had been inflated with a faulty bicycle pump, to Chief of Protocol Wiley T. Buchanan:

"Your lovely wife, Ruth, looks so lovely tonight, and I hear the Prime Minister of Ghana has accepted the President's invitation to visit him in July. What's his name?"

"Eisenhower," replied Mr. Buchanan.

"No — the Prime Minister of Ghana," Mr. Buchanan said the gentleman's name was "Kwame Nkrumah."

The bore seemed unable to grasp this commonplace name. The protocol chief, always the soul of patience and courtesy, tried to phoneticize it, but the inquisitor recognized acquaintances and shook hands in three different directions, including under Mr. Buchanan's arm.

While ostensibly boring a ranking ambassador, a female bifurcated:

"I simply must visit your wonderful country. Tell me, what is the best time of the year—Hello, Agnes, I'm delighted to see you. I didn't think you'd be invited—Good evening, Mr. Secretary. Isn't the music divine?—Well, it's been wonderful to have this nice long chat with you, Mr. Ambassador."

Dear Abby - - -

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My brother-in-law has owed me $500.00 for six years. Since that time he has traded two cars and now he's starting to build a house. This burns me up and my wife doesn't quit nagging me about it. Should I remind him with a good strong hint that he owes me? OWED.

DEAR OWED: People don't "forget" a debt of $500.00. A hint won't do it — tell him in plain words that you'd like him to start paying off. He didn't "hint" when he borrowed it.

DEAR ABBY: So... "A WIFE WHO KNOWS" thinks all we secretaries have to do all day is make whoopee with their husbands? We may arrive at the office looking glamorous, but after a hectic day of catering to the boss' whims, putting up with his childish tantrums, placating all the people he's insulted to make him look like a god to his clients, we don't care how we look! As for that vodka bottle in the bottom drawer... I wish I had one. I'd like to break it over my boss' fat head and give him away. A SECRETARY WHO KNOWS BETTER

DEAR ABBY: My brother was married for three years to a woman who was no good. He divorced her in a scandalous court fight (she contested it) when he had pictures to prove she had cavorted all the way with six different men. My brother never remarried after that because he lost all faith in women. He passed away a single man. Now his ex-wife is calling herself a WIDOW instead of a divorcee. How can we stop her? HIS SISTER

DEAR SISTER: You can't stop her from calling herself whatever she wishes, but I imagine those who know her are still calling her by the name she earned.

DEAR ABBY: I am on the verge of a nervous breakdown because my husband (age 48) refuses to go to Night School although he can't read, write.

CONFIDENTIAL TO CONCERNED M.D.: If you are a doctor you know that a psychiatrist is also a physician and would not treat a patient for a mental illness until all the possibilities of a physical illness have been dealt with.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Last night at Zihlman, there were four registrars, split evenly between the sexes and the major parties. One man and one woman signed up as Republicans and one man and one woman registered as Democrats.

Today, Miss Baird and Mr. Zapf will sit at the Ellerslie Community Building from 2 to 5 p. m. and at the Corriganville Fire Hall from 6 to 9 p. m. Tomorrow they will be at the LaVale Fire Hall from 2 to 5 p. m. and again from 6 to 9 p. m.

Decision Upholds Court Judgment

The Court of Appeals has filed an opinion upholding an Allegany County Circuit Court judgment that awarded a 60 per cent permanent partial disability to Clarence Mellott of this city.

Mellott, a road construction worker, slipped and fell while lifting a pipe in April, 1955. His employer, the Baughman Contracting Co., claimed that his back trouble was largely due to a previous injury. The Industrial Accident Commission had awarded him only 5 per cent permanent partial disability from the 1955 injury.

The Court of Appeals said there was legally sufficient medical evidence for the jury to arrive at a larger finding and agree with Mellott's contention that his previous back injury, in another location of the back, had healed.

Gov. Almond Confers With River Group

Virginians To Seek Peace With Maryland On Potomac River

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Gov. Almond met about 90 minutes yesterday with his special five-man commission which will work with a similar group from Maryland on a plan to achieve peace on the Potomac River.

State Sen. Mills E. Godwin of Suffolk was named chairman of the Virginia delegation to the joint commission. Del. John Warren Cooke of Mathews was elected vice chairman and John Boatwright Jr. was named secretary.

Godwin said yesterday's meeting was primarily organizational, but that the group held a general discussion on the background of the Virginia-Maryland river dispute.

He said the meeting reached no conclusions. Gov. Almond will notify Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland that the Virginia commissioners are ready to meet with their Maryland counterparts and will suggest several tentative dates for the meeting. Godwin said he thought the meeting would probably be held in two or three weeks.

McKeldin and Almond set up the two-state commission at the suggestion of retired Supreme Court Justice Stanley F. Reed, special master in the Supreme Court case Virginia has brought against Maryland. Virginia is challenging Maryland's right to cancel, without Virginia's consent, the Maryland-Virginia Potomac River Compact of 1785.

Under this compact, Maryland, which owns the river to the low water mark on the Virginia shore, gave Virginians equal fishing rights and an equal voice in fishery laws governing the river.

In 1957, the Maryland Legislature passed an act abrogating the compact. Marylanders contend Virginia has violated the spirit of the compact by tolerating violations of anti-dredging laws by Virginia oystermen.

Reed, at a hearing last month, suggested that the two states try to reach an out-of-court settlement. He deferred further proceedings until June 3, when he expects to hear reports on any progress made toward settlement. Godwin wouldn't disclose any possible plans the Virginians may propose to the Maryland conferees.

Other Virginia members of the commission are State Sen. Robert Y. Button of Culpeper and Dels. Howard H. Adams of Northampton and Edward E. Lane of Richmond.

Laugh Away Recession, Solon Urges

WASHINGTON — (INS)—Rep. Bruce Alger (R), a big Texan, believes a story a day will laugh the recession away.

Alger, 40, former Princeton University football center and World War II B-29 pilot with 23 combat missions over Japan, declared he will offer the House a humorous analogy every day in an attempt to "halt the prophets of doom from talking us into a depression."

One of his latest: "I am reminded of the two powerful and healthy mules which were laboring heavily to pull a wagon over a dusty country road. The fellow on the wagon was yelling imprecations and lustily swatting the mules' hindquarters."

"Finally, the driver pulled up his sweating team to a stop beside a man sitting on a fence and asked: 'Pardner, how long is this darn hill anyway?'"

"The bystander eyed him reflectively for a moment, spat, and replied: 'Fellow you ain't on no hill—your hind wheels is off.'"

The missing wheels for recession recovery, Alger said, comprise "the good old U.S.A. system of free enterprise."

A recent study, conducted by Dr. George Gallup of the American Institute of Public Opinion, found that newspaper advertising is regarded as news by most readers.

GI Insurance Rumor Cited

WASHINGTON — (INS)—The Veterans Administration said today that false reports that it is holding 60 million dollars in unclaimed GI life insurance premium refunds have led to a "deluge" of requests for non-existent payments.

A VA spokesman said the erroneous reports apparently originated in Kentucky and gave rise to a nationwide demand for refunds.

Investigation disclosed that the rumors arose from the 1950 special dividend payment on National Service Life Insurance policies. Some of these checks were returned to VA headquarters because the ex-GI's for whom they were intended could not be located.

The VA said, however, that the amount involved is less than three million dollars, and that it is held in a special fund from which payments are made when identification and proper address are established.

The agency added that 99.6 per cent of all eligible ex-GI's who applied for the special dividends have received them.

Armed Robbers Going To Join Rebels In Cuba

The three youths arrested near Winchester, Va., Monday night for the armed robbery of a Manington, W. Va., grocery man near Romney, have been lodged in the Preston County Jail at Kingwood.

The trio, Forrest Lipscomb, 20, of Thomas; Patrick Patterson, 18, Jacksonville, Fla., and Harry E. Volker, 23, McKeesport, Pa., told authorities after their arrest that they were heading for Cuba to join the rebel forces of Fidel Castro.

They were arrested after taking $40 and an automobile from David Brown after he gave them a ride near Silver Lake, W. Va.

West Virginia State Police yesterday afternoon issued warrants for armed robbery for Lipscomb and Patterson, while the FBI obtained warrants against all three for auto larceny.

They were scheduled to receive preliminary hearings this afternoon in Kingwood.

Primitive cave women in the United States tidied up their floors by spreading fresh soil over the debris rather than using the equivalent of a broom. Archaeologists today are happy about this for it preserved the tools and other articles used in those ancient days as carefully as if they had been left in a modern filing cabinet.

You Need A Church To Be A Christian

Did you ever stop to think that Christianity is not a "lone wolf" activity?

Too many of us have come to think of our Christian profession as something having to do entirely with morals. We very glibly recite "The Golden Rule" and seem to believe that if "we do unto others as we would have them do unto us," we are being good Christians.

But, being a Christian first involves believing in Christ as our personal Saviour and as the Saviour of the world. It involves much more than being a good person.

Christ taught, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul and with all thy mind."

This command to love God includes worship, prayer, work for God's Kingdom. As our Book of Common Prayer puts it, a Christian's duty is "to follow Christ, to worship God every Sunday in His church, and to work and pray and give for the spread of His Kingdom."

In the Episcopal Church we worship God corporately—with other people. It means being a part of "the Body of Christ"—an active participant in His church.

We invite you to join us in worshipping God and His Son, Our Lord, in the Episcopal Church near you, at your earliest convenience.

Here's good reading. Send for your copy of the booklet "Why Go to Church?" You'll find it very much worthwhile.

Tip From Indians Develops New Bean

WASHINGTON — INS—Agriculture researchers have taken a tip from the Indians to produce a stronger, healthier bean plant.

The new bean plant is known as "nemazreer" and was specifically developed for planting in nematode-infested soils where other types of beans are stunted or die from the disease.

The bean has been field-tested for five years and is being leased by the Agriculture Department and the Oklahoma and Virginia Agricultural Experiment Stations.

Five Counties Set Minimum Teacher Pay

Baltimore City Joins Adjacent Areas In Plan

ANNAPOLIS — Baltimore City and five surrounding counties have reached a gentleman's agreement on teacher salaries and four other counties may follow suit at a meeting tomorrow.

The Anne Arundel County Board of Commissioners was told yesterday by County Manager Edward R. Longergan of the agreement among the city and the counties of Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Howard and Prince Georges.

They got together on the matter last Friday night, at a special meeting of the State Assn. of County Commissioners. Montgomery County wasn't represented but Longergan said its officials apparently were agreeable.

The main provision of the informal agreement is that $4,000 a year is an "acceptable minimum" starting salary for school teachers. The idea is to eliminate competitive bidding among counties for teachers' services, Longergan said.

Longergan said he understood a similar move is underway among officials of Washington, Carroll, Frederick and Harford counties. One Washington County man who would not be quoted by name said they planned to meet tomorrow in Carroll County.

Prince Georges and Howard County have indicated they would pay the $4,000 figure—which prevails in Baltimore City—next year, Longergan said, while Montgomery is believed to be in the process of approving it. Baltimore City said it would not go beyond that figure and Baltimore County was expected to hold the line at the same point.

Longergan said the minimum salary matter was a starting point, and the plan might be extended to maximums later.

Anne Arundel took no formal action yesterday but is expected to approve the plan at a meeting next week.

Hyndman Area Dial Telephone System Planned

HYNDMAN—Two more Bedford County exchanges will be converted to dial telephone systems this year by United Telephone Company, the firm announced this week. At the same time, United reported telephones at an all-time high in its Bedford exchange areas.

District Manager William Hazzard of Bedford said $387,661 will be spent in the county in new facilities and other service improvements.

Hyndman and Charlesville exchanges will get dial telephone. They will join the Bedford Valley, Osterburg and Hopewell exchanges among those in the county changed from the old manual system to the automatic dialing system.

No plans have been made for conversion by the company of its two largest county exchanges, Bedford and Everett, to dial in the near future.

Hazzard revealed that 3,735 telephones are now connected with the Bedford exchange, one of the largest in the entire United system.

The total is an increase of 242 in the past year, a seven per cent gain. In its entire system, United serves 92,500 subscribers in a 15-county area.

United also plans other extensive projects in the county this year, designed to improve the local service distribution system, increase inter-exchange channels and extend service to new areas.

It was not indicated in the United announcement exactly what new areas will be served. The company established its State Line exchange to serve Beans Cove two years ago, extending service to the last major portion of the county not yet served by telephone lines. Remaining unserved areas, according to the firm, are isolated sections of relatively small size in areas served already by United exchanges.

The Hyndman exchange being converted to dial serves Hyndman Borough and Londonderry Township in southwestern Bedford County, along with the southern edge of Harrison Township, bordering the Bedford exchange area. The Charlesville exchange serves Clersain Township and Rainsburg Borough (Friends Cove area) south of Bedford.

Livestock Show Planned April 26

MORGANTOWN—The Little Eastern National Livestock Show will be held at the West Virginia University Annual Husbandry Farm in Morgantown Saturday evening April 26, Elmer Olsen, chairman of the annual event, announced here today.

The show is held each year to provide experience for college students in fitting and showing livestock competitively. It is sponsored by the Block and Bridge Club, a campus organization of university students interested in animal husbandry.

The club elects from its members each year a chairman and a master of ceremonies for the show. For the 1958 event, members have chosen Elmer Olsen to be show chairman and Don Osburn to be master of ceremonies. Olsen is also president of the organization.

At present, 25 students have signed up to fit and show animals for the event. Hereford heifers, Angus heifers, Hampshire and Corriedale ewes, belonging to the animal husbandry farm, are used for the show.

To Mark Anniversary
MARTINSBURG—First Baptist Church will observe its 100th anniversary April 20-27.

Frostburg Re-Elects Mayor, Incumbent Council Trio

FROSTBURG—Mayor Joseph E. James and three incumbent councilmen were returned to office yesterday in Frostburg's municipal election which saw Commissioner James H. Evans defeated in his bid for re-election.

James P. Kennedy, former water superintendent, nosed out Evans by 154 votes for the fourth council post, trailing incumbents T. William Preston, Herbert E. Loar and William W. Sluss Jr. In a light election which saw only 1,238 ballots cast, compared to about 2,800 in the last 1956 municipal election, Mayor James soundly whipped his opponent, Dr. Adam D. Baer, 764 to 474. Unofficial returns are:

For Mayor:
Joseph E. James 764
Dr. Adam D. Baer 474

For Council:
T. William Preston 891

William W. Sluss Jr. 805
James P. Kenney 670
James H. Evans 516
Kenneth A. Lowery 307
G. Victor Lammert 213

Mayor James was re-elected for his second two-year term, having decided to run after first, indicating he would not seek office again. Although winner of his own race handily, Mayor James trailed three of the councilmen in the total number of votes received.

Kenney, the only new member of the council, is employed at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory as a pipefitter and plumber. He served seven years as water superintendent for the city and previously worked for four years in the Water Department before becoming its head. He

Education Workshop To Begin In July

MORGANTOWN — Dates for West Virginia University's sixth annual Workshop on Economic Education—July 17-August 7—were announced today by Dr. Frank Peluso, assistant professor of education and director of the workshop for the Colleges of Education and Commerce.

The workshop has three major purposes, he said: (1) To help school personnel better understand the American economy, (2) to develop leadership in the profession for local programs in economic education and (3) to develop instructional materials, and teaching techniques for improved economic education in the schools of West Virginia.

Dr. Peluso said several outstanding leaders of national education in business, industry, and labor will serve as consultants for the three-week summer workshop.

Last year's workshop broke all records for attendance with 70 teachers, supervisors and principals enrolled. The maximum attendance this summer will be increased to 75. All participants will receive board and room scholarships for the three weeks. These scholarships are made possible through business and industrial organizations throughout the state.

Applications are now being received at the university. Dr. Peluso asks teachers, supervisors of instruction or principals interested in attending the workshop to submit applications immediately.

Persons enrolling in the course for the three credit hours will pay the usual tuition fee charged by the university for either resident or non-resident students.

Keyser Area CUF Unit Will Meet Monday

KEYSER—The annual meeting of the Keyser Chapter of the County United Fund, Inc., will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the parish house of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church.

All contributors to the 1958 fund campaign and other interested citizens are invited to attend, according to Dr. Ernest E. Church, area vice president of the Keyser area CUF.

The program for the meeting, Dr. Church said, is designed to bring to citizens of the Keyser area up-to-date information on progress of the CUF.

Included on the program will be a progress report by Earl K. Hess, member of the executive committee and treasurer of the County United Fund.

Harlan Ridder will present the story of the Keyser area's newest community welfare agency—United Charities, Inc.

Other business will include the election of officers and directors of the Keyser chapter, information on general operating procedures for the County United Fund and a report on agency allocations for 1958.

Wins Science Award

Randolph Pifer, a member of the Senior Class of Keyser High School, is the 1958 winner of the Bausch and Lomb honorary science award medal for achieving the highest scholastic record in science during his high school studies. It was announced by Owen S. Schaeffer, science instructor at KHS. His average in science for four years is 3.800.

Only winners of this award, which is presented annually in more than 6,000 schools throughout the United States, are eligible to compete for the Bausch and Lomb science scholarships sponsored by the Bausch and Lomb Optical Company at the University of Rochester.

Pifer is now eligible for one of a group of major science scholarships sponsored by the Bausch and Lomb Company. The Rochester scholarship committee studies all applications and selects 30 of the most promising candidates as finalists. These students are notified of their selection late in March, and the finalists are invited to Rochester for three days with all expenses paid for interviews and competitive tests to determine the scholarship winners.

The award is given to encourage the pursuit of scientific careers and to reward high scholastic achievement. Although the science award medal is presented upon graduation, the winner must be selected at an early date because applications for scholarships must be filed with the university on or before March 1.

Pifer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Pifer, 156 Maple Avenue, is president of the Hi-Y Club and a member of the Key Club and Grace Methodist Church. He also is a member of the National Honor Society and maintains an A average.

Train Wrecks Stalled Auto

PIEDMONT — An automobile was demolished when struck by a fast Baltimore and Ohio express train here yesterday, but no one was injured as the driver jumped from the car before it was hit.

B&O Policeman Thomas Y. Engle said the accident occurred when the 1951 Plymouth of Halley F. Cottrill, 47, Clarksburg, was struck by a westbound express train on Kenny House Hill crossing.

Engle said Cottrill, an employee of the U. S. Post Office Department, told him he had driven down the hill and onto the crossing when his car stalled on the westbound tracks. As he was trying to start it again, he heard the warning bells and saw the gates go down at the crossing.

Piedmont Patrolman Robert Mongold tried to help Cottrill push his car off the crossing, but when they failed Cottrill grabbed his luggage out of the car and fled as the train approached.

Engineer J. H. Andrews of Cumberland said he threw the train into emergency when he saw the car on the crossing, but could not stop in time to avoid the crash. The car was thrown against the crossing gates, smashing them and causing an estimated $300 damage.

Seven Back As Starters For League, City Champs

"They were the best." That was the way LaSalle High basketball coach George Geatz put it in simple terms after his Explorers had been eliminated from the ESCIT in the second game at Newport, R. I., last Friday.

Both Geatz and assistant coach Dick Boyle were in full accord. They were looking back over the two tournaments the Explorers had just played, first the Knights of Columbus affair at Georgetown University in Washington the previous weekend and then the ESCIT at Newport.

"I'm not taking anything away from our team. I thought it ranked with the best I've seen. Never did I have any doubts but that we were capable of making a good showing in the two tournaments. But the all-around play of most of the teams showed me some of the best high school basketball I've ever watched," Geatz stated.

"If I had a choice, the Archbishop Molloy team from Jamaica, N. Y., that won the K of C tourney would have to be the greatest scholastic team I ever saw. John Carroll (loser to Molloy in the Georgetown tourney and winner of the ESCIT) has a great team, but with all those big men they have you beaten almost from the start. It's hard to cope with six-eight and six-nine players who can also play all-around basketball instead of just being able to rebound."

"Trenton (N. J.) Catholic, the team that beat us in the opener at Newport, had a lot down and lost to Carroll the second game but against us I didn't see how they would ever be beaten. They had the big men and three little guys who could overrun you and keep you away from the boards," Geatz said.

"I thought we had a chance against St. Aloysius of Jersey City in our second game. They had just put up a heck of a battle the first day in losing to Carroll. We caught them when they were ready to be taken and our boys finally started playing the way they had all year. But we fell on our faces again after a great three periods and Jersey was able to show its class to win without any trouble."

Naturally Geatz, the team and the handful of persons from Cumberland who made the trip to Newport were disappointed. It was the misfortune of the Explorers to have either a letdown from too much basketball, tourney jitters or else they were due for a stretch of bad games after compiling such an enviable record over the regular season.

Anybody who saw the Explorers play this year would have found it hard to believe it was the same quint that lost only once in 23 games over the campaign. They just couldn't click for shots or plays that they had been executing with matter-of-fact perfection since early last December. But, again, they were also playing teams that have produced some of the classiest cagers in collegiate circles over the past ten years.

Evidence of the high regard in which the teams were held was that the beautiful new Rogers High gym at Newport looked like a college coaches' convention throughout the three-day affair. No less than ten mentors were tripping over each other to get a glimpse of prospects, including the University of Maryland's "Bud" Millikan, Matt Zuni of Boston University, John Bach of Fordham, "Hop" Riepolf of Holy Cross and Jim Gibbons, Notre Dame freshman coach.

It's no secret the ESCIT is viewed as one of the top schoolboy tournaments in the country as it represents most of the best teams from the New England, Middle Atlantic and eastern sections of the country.

Players Praise Setup

However, although the players returned home with only silver basketballs as their reward from the fabulous resort city, they have nothing but high praise for the manner in which they were treated during their stay at Newport. The tournament, under the able direction of Hugh McGowan Jr., is run off without a hitch.

The players were all quartered in the same area and something was planned for them each day. They attended luncheons, put on their own entertainment acts, were taken on guided tours of historical sites and the big Naval Base and had a personal aide to see that everything was done for their comfort. The city still takes on a holiday atmosphere for the tourney which is one of the big attractions of the year.

The gym and school in which the tournament was staged is something to behold. Rogers High School, which cost $3,500,000, is a multi-colored house of education. (Continued on Page 15)

Opponents in the Allegany County High School Baseball League looking for a way to stop Fort Hill High's 1953 champions, their title won't find it on the roster as released by coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh this morning.

Only two first-stringers, mainstay pitcher ace Jesse Markley and third-baseman Walter Hillegas, are missing from the club which last spring slugged its way to the league and city titles in compiling an overall record of 13 wins, one loss and a tie.

But Champ Returns
The Red Raiders have six starters returning, including batting champion catcher Gary Wolford, who hit for .300 or better last spring. Wolford swatted league pitchers for a .468 average in 14 games.

The infield, with the exception of third base, returns intact with Donnie Lewis (.372) at first, Tom Shaw (.289) at second and Thurl Roy (.370) at short. Center-fielder Ed Weaver (.333), right-fielder Jim Stinson (.390) and left-fielder Jim Hammond (.304) are also ready for another year of duty.

Senior Carl Slonaker, who had a .500 average last year in a utility role, and junior Gary Thompson will be waging a fight for Hillegas' third-base job.

Jones, Paige Return
Despite the loss of Markley, who had a 26-5 record for the Sentinels in a career that spanned four seasons, the Red Raiders have two seasoned moundmen available in Russ Jones and Jim Paige. Jones was undefeated in three decisions last year while Paige posted a 1-0 mark.

Allan Largent notched the other two wins for the '37 champs. He was also graduated last May. Hillegas (.370), Largent (.364) and Markley (.318) also were better than average hitters for the Cavanaugh nine.

The Hilltoppers, seeking a clean sweep of all the athletic honors available this school season, will open the campaign by facing the Alumni a week from Friday. The rest of their 15-game schedule will be against league foes, the first contest set with Mt. Savage on the Indians' diamond Tuesday April 15.

Lone Defeat To Also
The only defeat the Sentinels suffered last year came at the hands of Allegany in a nine-inning, 7-6, setback. The Red Raiders won the league title with a 12-1 mark, the tie being against Valley 19-9 in a contest called at the end of nine frames because of darkness.

In the three-cornered city series, the Cavanaugh men swept LaSalle 14-1 and 5-2 while also taking the close out with Allegany, 16-0, for a 3-1 mark in city action.

Fort Hill tied for the league title in 1956 with LaSalle and won the honors outright the previous year. The South Enders have won the most league crowns with five in addition to a pair of ties in the 19 seasons of play. The schedule and roster:

Pompey, Calhoun In Clash Tonight

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (P)—Yolande Pompey, a light-heavyweight with his eye on "mixing it up" meets Rory Calhoun, a heavy-listed middleweight in a scheduled 10-round bout here tonight.

Observers are expecting the affair to be a rouster. Some doubt it will last 10 rounds.

Pompey has knocked out 25 of his opponents, and Calhoun 17 of 27.

IT'S CATCHING—Obviously a girl who knows all the angles when it comes to rod and reel, Barbara Snyder is justifiably proud of a bluefin tuna that weighs almost as much as she does. The Baltimore miss, who weighs 112 pounds, hooked the 93-pound denizen of the deep off Hatteras, N. C.

Kramer, Pros To Help Tutor Net Amateurs

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—There's a bright new hope—Jack Kramer and his pro tennis stars to be specific—today to Uncle Sam's chances for winning back the Davis Cup.

James B. Moffett, chairman of the Cup selection committee, said Kramer and his touring foursome—Pancho Gonzales, Pancho Segura, Tony Trabert and Lew Hoad—would tutor amateurs hopeful of making the American team.

Mackay First Student
The first student will be Barry Mackay, 23-year-old Michigan graduate from Dayton, Ohio, and a member of the 1957 team which lost to Australia 3-2. Mackay will go to New York this weekend from Monte Carlo and practice with the pros on their Eastern swing.

Moffett said Mackay was chosen for special training because he was neither working nor in school. The tennis official said Mackay would practice daily with the pros who "being the great players they are, will help him overcome mistakes."

He said the professionals play every night for money, and every day for fun. "You'd think they'd get tired of it," Moffett added, "but they don't."

When the tour ends, Mackay is to go to Los Angeles and work under the guidance of Kramer, a former U. S. champion and Davis Cup player.

Intensive Training
Moffett emphasized other prospects, those "who not only want to win but who show us they can," will be eligible for the same intensive training when it can be arranged.

He listed a number including Whitney Reed of San Jose State, Jack Douglas of Stanford, Ronnie Holmberg of Tulane, Mike Green of UCLA and Mike Franks of Southern California.

Gilbert Shea of Los Angeles and Cliff Mayne of San Francisco are young business men who also have a chance, Moffett said.

He said the players' amateur status will not be jeopardized by the practice with pros.

The United States last won the Cup in 1934. Australia has dominated the competition since.

The first challenge round for the United States is in May against Venezuela at Caracas. The winner, faces Canada in Montreal in June with Australia the next step. There, competition is between the winner of the European and Eastern zones for the right to play the Aussies.

Bassey Plays Early Joke On Ring Bosses

By PATRICK MCNULTY
LOS ANGELES (P)—World featherweight champion Hogan (Kid) Bassey played an April Fool's joke on his ring counselors—but they liked it just fine today.

"We told him to box—so he knocks the chap out early," said Bassey's manager George Biddles.

The chap was Ricardo (Pajarito) Moreno of Mexico, who had been hailed as the more vicious puncher.

KO In First Defense
The champion from Nigeria left ringside mouths agape with his savage third-round knockout. It was his first defense of the 126-pound title.

"I fought the first round exactly as I had planned," Moreno said, explaining later through an interpreter. "After that I could do nothing."

"He hit me hard in the first round, so I slugged back," Bassey admitted with a grin. Bassey continued bombing until the Little Bird collapsed like a pressed duck with just a few seconds left in the third.

Moreno took the first step toward gloryland when Bassey, 124, clipped him with a ripping uppercut midway in the second.

"That's when I knew I had him," Bassey said.

Moreno, 124½, was far from through, however, and made a game stand as thousands of his countrymen from south of the border and Los Angeles' large Mexican colony shouted encouragement.

Punches Hurt A Plenty
Bassey, also a deft boxer, slipped or blocked most of Moreno's flurries. But he later admitted that even the punches on his arms hurt plenty.

"He's the best puncher I've met," Bassey said.

In the third, Bassey opened with a wild-swinging barrage.

A solid right sent Moreno reeling across the ring.

Bassey followed with two more rights and Moreno did a drunken shuffle-off dance step and collapsed. He was still on his back, but making a feeble effort to rise, when Referee Tommy Hart counted him out.

Bassey collected a guarantee of $70,000 from the Wrigley Field gross gate of $215,047.06. Moreno got $38,000.

The Bassey camp planned to return to England before deciding on any future fights.

Duke Toppled In Dixie Play
By The Associated Press
Only Duke of the four Atlantic Coast Conference hosts is out of the winners bracket as the third annual Dixie Baseball Classic goes into its second round today at Winston-Salem, N.C.

Classic pairings pit yesterday's winners in night games—North Carolina against Connecticut and Wake Forest against North Carolina State. An afternoon twin bill sends Lafayette against Massachusetts and Duke against Princeton in the losers' division.

Two other ACC host teams are in action, Harvard at Virginia and The Citadel at Clemson.

Completing yesterday's ACC schedule non-league Maine shadowed host Maryland 7-6 and gave the Terps an overall 1-2 season mark.

Senior Semi-Finals To Feature Tonight

The last three finalists in the Central YMCA-Jaycee Basketball Tournament will be decided tonight in the three games on tap at the "Y" court.

The Senior Unlimited division's eventual champion will come from the winner tonight between Devon Club and Ridgeley American Legion when they clash at 8:30 and the victor in the Hancock AC-Loyal Order of Moose tilt at 7:30. Devon Club and Ridgeley won their quarter-final tests last night, the Devons walloping Ringler's Mobil Station, 80-22, and Ridgeley ushering out Hafer House Furniture, 45-34.

The opponent for Rendezvous Five of the Tri-Towns in tomorrow night's Junior Unlimited class final will be decided in tonight's other game as Lovers' Leap Esso takes on Mason's Snack Bar at 6:30.

Jimmy's In Finals
Jimmy's Place made it to the finals in the 135-pound division last night by whipping Sanders' Gulf, 70-52. Jimmy's will tangle with defending-champion Bobcats tomorrow at 7 p. m.

Dave Marple, Clay Smith and Jim Cave sparked Devon Club last night by scoring 46 of their club's 80 markers. The Devons wasted little time in starting the rout, piling up a 23-3 lead at the end of the first quarter and then being on top by 36-7 and 63-16 at the end of the other periods.

Ringler's was limited to only eight buckets while Devon Club raked the nets for 33 double-doubles and 14 of 18 from the free-throw line. Marple caged 18 tallies while Clay Smith scored 16 and Cave finished with a dozen.

Win At Foul Line
Ridgeley led at the quarter 8-4, 17-12 and 28-22 in its contest with Hafer's quint. The Legion held a 15-14 edge in field goals and out-pointed the losers 15 to 6 at the free throw mark. Ed Riley paced the Ridgeley scorers with five baskets and 13 points while "Junie" Perry was high man for Hafer's with eight fielders and 18 tallies.

Sanders' Gulf quint was out-scored 28 to 15 from the field by Jimmy's but hooped 22 of 38 foul shots. Jimmy's meshed 14 out of 21 free throws for the 18-point victory.

Dave Baker and Jimmy Stinson collected 21 and 20 points for Jimmy's. Ray Jones and Jack Spangler contributed 14 and 13, respectively. Royce Waltman, Hyndman High School player, bang in 30 points for the losers on eight field goals and 14-19 at the foul line. Jimmy's Place led at halftime, 23-13.

Ford Certain Of Victory In Masters Play

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AUGUSTA, Ga. (P)—"If I had to pick a man to win the Masters this weekend," said defending champion Doug Ford, "I would say myself."

"I feel just like I did a year ago. I feel my game is jelling at exactly the right time."

Although no man has ever repeated in the Masters Golf Tournament, opening Thursday, Ford is supremely confident.

Rated Toughest Batter
Ford, from Mahopac, N.Y., is a man of moods, and a spurter. When he is rolling—his game clicking and his spirits high—he is almost unbeatable. Fellow pros rate him the toughest batter in the game.

"I had a miserable winter tour," Ford said. "I couldn't putt. But at San Antonio I felt my touch getting back and at Baton Rouge and New Orleans I knew I was feeling back in the groove. Now I feel great."

"If I continue playing the way I am, I feel sure I can win again."

Snead, Venturi Threats
Ford shows the most concern over Sam Snead and the red-hot youngster Ken Venturi.

Braves Worry About Ailing Del Crandall

BRADENTON, Fla. — (INS) — Today is getaway day at the Milwaukee Braves' Bradenton training camp but all is not well with the defending world champions. What was described as a well-kept secret has caused manager Fred Haney much worry. Del Crandall, number one catcher, has been complaining of an ailing left elbow all spring. Crandall just revealed that he had the injury all last season. Crandall currently is undergoing treatment from a Sarasota, Fla., specialist, Dr. Michael Di Cosolo. Di Cosolo also is working on center fielder Billy Bruton's left knee. Bruton will be put on the disabled list to make room for another outfielder. Nothing Basically Wrong Haney has discounted reports that Crandall would have to undergo surgery for his elbow. Haney said "Crandall hasn't complained to me." He added: "He had it examined in December and was told there was nothing basically wrong. It was examined the other day but I haven't been told yet he would have to have an operation." The catcher has not caught a game since March 17 nor has he taken a turn at bat. His batting average is only .100. The Braves, however, are well stocked with catchers—Del Rice, Carl Sawatski and bonus baby Bob Taylor. Crandall is quite hopeful that recent treatment will make surgery unnecessary. His ailment has been diagnosed by Dr. Di Cosolo as bone roughness. Crandall said "It's something like a bone spur, only the injury is too small to be called a spur." The Braves catcher said he has been taking heat treatment which amounts to an electric shock.

Hurt In 1956

Crandall explained that "If the treatment doesn't work, it means one thing—an incision has to be made and the bone scraped." This, however, is a last resort. Crandall suffered the elbow injury in June, 1956, in a game against the Pittsburgh Pirates. Infielder Dick Cole, who no longer is with the Pirates, spiked Crandall when he slid into home plate. The Milwaukee catcher was out of the lineup for two weeks and later was out for another month. "I thought the rest I had over the winter would do it," Del said. "So I didn't say anything about it at camp but after spring training last year, it started bothering me again," he explained. "The injury hurt me at the plate last year and a guy just doesn't like to sit on the bench when his team is going for the pennant," he added.

Day In Sports

tion that appears to be something out of Disneyland. It was being host to the ESCIT for the first time. The court itself is spacious and just itself of collegiate regulation. The gymnasium, which has a double-decked seating arrangement, is rated the best in New England and has a 2,100 capacity.

John Carroll, with its pair of sky-scraping operators in six-nine John Thompson and eight Tom Hoover, quickly caught the fancy of the crowds. George Lettwich, a driving, sharp-shooting playmaker, "Moak" Malloy, another backcourt star and top-notch shooter, were the backbone of the Carroll attack and all are back next year for defense of the title which they won for the first time.

Carroll is the tallest team ever to participate in the ESCIT and the first from the District of Columbia ever to go all the way. Hoover, who has great agility to go along with his huge frame, was the target of the autograph seekers throughout. Only a junior, Hoover was equally as popular with his teammates and opponents, being the "comedian" of the tournament. He was being eyed closely by all the college coaches but they will have to wait until next year for him to graduate.

A nervous bundle of energy helped cause the downfall of LaSalle in the second game. Vince "TNT" Ernst, only five-eight who had been an All-American selection in the "Biddy Basketball League" just a few years ago, was all that he was touted to be for St. Aloysius.

Ernst, also one of the more popular players in the tourney, sparked the second-half drive that eliminated the Explorers after they had been keeping pace most of the game. He dumped in 18 of his 23 points after intermission with driving layups and was all over the floor in showing his court ability. An accurate marksman, Ernst took the foul-shooting contest by hooping 19 of 20 attempts to earn himself a trophy. LaSalle's egos would have undoubtedly voted him another one for the way he played against them.

In all it was a great experience for the locals, one they will remember forever. That they didn't win or make a better showing will be marked up to experience. They didn't quit, no matter what the final tally showed on the scoreboard. They are a credit to their school and Cumberland can be proud of the manner in which they conducted themselves throughout.

Sluggers, Little Jack Urban Share Spotlight In Training

By FRED DE LUCA
INS Sports Writer

Minnie Minoso, Bill Skowron, Ernie Banks and Steve Bilko—more than a third-of-a-ton of beef on the hoof—may generate loads of power but little Jack Urban proves baseball still has room for guile and cunning.

The four sluggers belted a total of nine homers good for 23 runs yesterday while Urban, a relative midget at 5-foot-8 and 155 pounds, pitched eight scoreless innings in the day's top hurling performance. The 29-year-old right-hander, who was 7-and-4 with Kansas City last year, combined with Tom Gorman on a six-hitter as the A's beat Detroit, 4 to 1.

Lone Tally In Ninth

The only Tiger run came in the ninth off Gorman who, like Urban, is an ex-Yankee. The four KC runs were off Billy Hoelt in the fifth.

Minoso was the top slugger of the exhibition day, whacking three homers good for eight runs. Each of the other three long-ball hitters had a pair of round-trippers.

Banks' two circuits were good for five runs but he couldn't match Minoso's Cleveland over-whelmed the Chicago Cubs, 14 to 7, at Mesa, Ariz. Minoso had two of his homers off Taylor Phillips.

Skowron produced six runs with his homers and added two more RBI's on a fielder's choice opening of the National League season and a single. His second homer came in the seventh inning as the New York Yankees broke a 9-all tie to beat the Chicago White Sox, 15 to 11, at Tampa, Fla.

Sox Blow Lead

All the Yankee scoring was the expense of Dick Donovan and Bob Keegan and wiped out a six-run lead erected by the White Sox in the very first inning off Sal Maglie. Ron Jackson hit a two-run homer for the Sox in that frame. Each team had 14 hits.

Both of Bilko's homers came with a runner on and Curt Simmons pitching to help Cincinnati to a 9-to-2 win over Philadelphia at Clearwater, Fla. Harry Anderson's homer accounted for the Phillies' only runs, and Jerry Phillips connected for the Redlegs' Hal Jeffcoat went six scoreless in innings for Cincinnati.

Eddie Mathews drove in three runs with two doubles and a single and Hank Aaron homered to lead Milwaukee to a 7-to-2 win over Pittsburgh at Bradenton, Fla. Gene Conley won and Bob Friend lost.

Charley Neal's error at short enabled Albie Pearson to score in the tenth inning and give Washington a 7-to-6 win over Los Angeles at Orlando, Fla. The Senators tied the game with two runs in the ninth.

Sisler Streak Ends

St. Louis edged Boston, 4 to 3, at St. Petersburg, Fla. The Cards ended Dave Sisler's hitless streak after the Boston right-hander had retired 33 straight batters in three games. Lindy McDaniel was the winner.

The San Francisco Giants made only three hits, including Willie Kirkland's homer, but beat Baltimore, 4 to 1, at Seaside, Ariz. Al Worthington and Ray Monzant scattered nine Oriole safeties.

Jockey Steve Brooks Joins '3,000 Club'

HALLANDALE, Fla. — (INS) — Veteran jockey Steve Brooks is the seventh rider in racing history to ride 3,000 winners. He gained that distinction yesterday at Gulfstream Park when he won on Tempest Tossed in the third race.

Brooks, 37, of McCook, Neb., who began riding 17 years ago at Shreveport, La., joins these riding greats—Johnny Longden, Eddie Arcaro, Ted Atkinson, John Adams, Ralph Neves and Willie Shoemaker — in the exclusive "3,000 club."

He was given an ovation by track fans and a trophy from track officials.

Dees Most Valuable Again In Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — Archie Dees of Indiana has been selected as the Big Ten's most valuable basketball player for the second successive year.

Dees, 6 feet 8 and the top scorer in the conference for the last two seasons, became the first player in history to win the award twice in a row since its inauguration in 1946.

Cubs Prepare 'Boy' Pitchers For Season

This is another in a series of spring training camp stories by Norm Gerdeeman, former local baseball star and minor league manager, who is covering major league teams working out in the Far West. Gerdeeman now resides in Lake Tahoe, Nev., where he is employed by Harrah's Club.

By NORM GERDEMAN

MESA, Ariz. — The Chicago Cubs are fortunate that they have a starting quartet of young pitchers ready for the 1958 National League campaign.

The annual lack of base hits outlumbered them 2-0. Those two Detroit errors — wild throws by third baseman Reno Bertoia and pitcher Billy Hoelt — came in the fifth inning when the A's got all affairs.

The Cubs realize that in youth there is stamina, and manager Bob Scheffing has a string of "boys" set for the firing line. They are good too!

All four starters are in their twenties, and the No. 1 relief man, Don Elston, is only 28. It's true that shortstop Ernie Banks, first baseman Dale Long and outfielder Walt Moryn can be counted on for their quota of base hits. But, after that, Cub baserunners will be few.

Drott is the Cubs' frontline pitcher although he's only 22. Drabowsky, 22, left-hander Taylor Phillips, 24, and Jim Brosnan, 28, complete the starting array. Drott totaled 170 strikeouts in his freshman year of 1957 and he posted 15 wins against 11 losses for the seventh-place Cubs, including three shutouts. The fast-balling right hander reported to Rendezvous Park in near-perfect condition.

Drabowsky posted a 13-15 mark for the Cubs and Brosnan was 5-5. Phillips, acquired in the trade that sent Bob Rush and Don Kaiser to Milwaukee, had 3-2 for the Braves.

Pilate's Wife Claudia

Just then, a burst of sound slammed through the corridor. "Crucify him!" Claudia stood motionless, the color drained from her face. Finally, she caught her breath and dismissed the officer. She sagged into a chair. What could she do? How stop it?

Her husband was a hard, ambitious man, scornful of all religious glories. The only powers he recognized were arms, craft and ambition. The son of slaves! He'd never even have his governorship, except for his marriage to her, a descendant of Augustus.

But he showed no gratitude for that. Claudia sat wringing her hands.

A little later she learned with a brief surge of hope that Pilate had sent the prisoner to be judged by Herod of Galilee, also here for the Passover. But her relief soon was shattered. Herod obviously had declined. The stir outside resumed and she detected a rustle of activity down a side passage in Pilate's council chambers.

She rose abruptly and stole a look through the portieres. She saw Jesus brought in, his arms, and neck bleeding, from the flagellation.

Her heart seemed to stop. Pilate had obviously had him flogged. She slipped along the passage, knowing she could not interfere, but unable to play away. She heard her husband's sarcastic question, "Are you the king of the Jews?"

The reply was strained, but firm. "My kingdom is not of this world." Then Pilate, amused, "So you are a king?" The other spoke slowly, wearily. "For this I was born, and for this I have come into the world, to bear witness to the truth."

Pilate chuckled sagely. "What is truth?"

Although she could not see the man, Claudia could see again the hum of his dream. Her thoughts whirling, she returned again to her room, and dropped, on a couch beside the table. She picked up a leather quill and dipped it into the ink, hesitating. The nightmare rose before her, the face of the doomed, the crowd, the death cries, the memory of Pilate jabbing his thumb downward, and instead of beasts, it was a flame springing out at fagots piled in the arena about the Great One.

Then she felt herself caught up in a wild wave of humanity, herself and her husband, too, his eyes glazed and unseeing, hurled into a trampling mob, a death frenzy of men and women, dark figures, crazed, tangle-haired, toothless.

But the doomed man mystifiedly

How To Foresee Elimination Play

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

A Beaumont reader wants to know how to recognize an elimination play. There is a potential elimination play any time you can throw the defense in the lead while you retain trumps in both your hand and dummy.

Here is a good example. Dummy won the opening diamond lead and South took the ace and king of trumps to find that East held a sure trump trick. South also noted that he had an apparent diamond loser which could be eliminated if he could throw East in and force him to give South a ruff and discard.

South played three rounds of clubs, trumping the third lead in his own hand, and then took all three spade tricks. Now South cashed dummy's remaining high diamond and threw East in with his queen of trumps.

East was down in one club and one spade and it did not matter which one he led. Declarer could trump in either hand and discard a losing diamond from the other.

This elimination play was pretty lucky. It worked because East only held two diamonds, but declarer can't be choosier and there was no other way to make the slam.

Utility Firm Reports Drop In '58 Income

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Gas and Electric Co. reports its net income during the first two months of this year was $3,833,000, amounting to 52 cents per share on common stock.

This compares to net income of $5,051,000 or 76 cents per common share during the same two months a year ago.

In reality, the comparison is misleading because the 1957 figure was padded by a nonrecurring dividend of $1,332,000 received from the State Harbor Water Power Corp.

The utility said yesterday its operating expenses were up $1,740,000 from last year, mainly because of extra gas production and overtime work during the big February snow storm. The company said gas revenues were 17 per cent or $1,645,000 higher than for the same period of 1957.

Morocco Given Disputed Tract

LISBON (INS)—Spain agreed today to turn over to Morocco a 10,000-square-mile tract of North African desert territory in an effort to end tension between the two nations.

An official announcement said Morocco will take over administration of the "Southern Protectorate of Morocco" on April 10 under an agreement reached in talks between the Spanish and Moroccan foreign ministers at Sintra, Portugal.

The talks began Sunday. Spain recognized Moroccan independence in 1956 but for more than a year the two countries have been in a dispute over territory to the southeast of Morocco which remained under Spanish control.

Md. Shipyards Still Blanked On Navy Jobs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite "repeated and emphatic assurances from the Navy Department, Maryland shipyards are receiving practically no Navy ship repair work," Sen. Butler (R-Md.) said today.

Butler demanded that Secretary of the Navy Gates intercede personally to assure more conversion and repair work for Maryland shipyards.

In a telegram to Gates, Butler said both Gates and Adm. E. G. Mummia, chief of the Bureau of Ships, had given assurances Maryland shipbuilders would get a fair share of contracts let on a nationwide competitive basis.

The telegram said: "In the past, this industry has demonstrated beyond question its ability to perform fine work at costs often less than competitors in other parts of the United States with the result that frequently the taxpayers have been saved large sums of money. Why, suddenly, this great Maryland industry is neglected makes no sense either from an equitable or economic standpoint."

"The President of the United States has directed that defense contracts be channeled whenever possible into areas with unemployment problems. May I respectfully remind you that we have several thousand jobless persons in the Maryland shipyards. The Navy, by a demonstration of impartiality in the award of repair and conversion contracts, can greatly alleviate this situation."

Services for Mrs. Mary Louise Carpenter, of 1 Washington Street, Morristown, N. J., who died Sunday in a Morristown hospital, will be conducted tomorrow at 11 a. m. at the Hafer Funeral Home by Rev. John F. Sammel, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

Mrs. Carpenter was a former resident of 109 North Johnson Street.

Exports Seen On Increase For Celanese

NEW YORK—Export business of Celanese Corporation of America in textiles, plastics and chemicals for the first half of this year is expected to be at least 50 per cent above last year, according to James P. Primm, general export sales manager of Amcel Company and Pan Amcel Company. These two companies are trading corporations concerned with export sales of Celanese.

Primm, who has just returned from a trip to the Union of South Africa, Belgium Congo, Morocco, Spain, Portugal and Great Britain, said that the company's export business in the first quarter was 60 per cent better than the same period last year. Present indications point to 1958 as the best year in exports for the company, he said.

A good deal of concern about business conditions in the United States was expressed by businessmen abroad, according to Primm, more than he thought was warranted.

With the growth of the textile industry in South Africa, this area has a good potential for the sale of United States textile raw materials, he said. As the industry there obtains better spinning, weaving and finishing equipment, he feels that the use of acetate will increase. The Union also has a good potential market for chemicals, though, because of freedom of exchange, it is a very competitive market.

In the Union of South Africa, the firm of Internacio Rotterdam, at Johannesburg, has been appointed agent for Celanese for textile yarns and fabrics and E. I. Rogoff for specialty fabrics. In the Belgian Congo Agencia Unis, Leopoldville, has been appointed textile agent, and in Morocco, L. J. Alazrak, of Casablanca.

Emphasizing that technical service is a big factor in increasing and maintaining business with concerns abroad, Mr. Primm said it is planned to expand this staff in the foreign operation.

Third Aircraft Breaks "Hoodoo"

CHICAGO (INS)—It took three Delta Air Lines DC-75 planes to bring one group of passengers from Miami to Chicago but the trip finally was accomplished despite two emergency landings.

The strange incident took place yesterday when the first plane, with 68 passengers and five crew members, left Miami yesterday morning. Engine trouble forced it to return to Miami.

The same group of passengers and the same crew boarded a second plane two hours later but it, too, developed engine trouble. The second plane was forced to make an emergency landing at St. Lucie Airport at Fort Pierce, Fla.

Passengers and crew boarded buses and cars to Vero Beach, Fla., and took off for Chicago in a third DC-7, arriving eight hours late.

Aerial Map Program To Be Started

CHARLESTON (AP)—Contracts are expected to be signed within a few days by the State Tax Department for aerial photographing of three counties to prepare tax maps.

An act of the last Legislature called for appraisal in the next three years of all real and personal property in West Virginia, except that belonging to public utilities, and the contracts tentatively accepted by the Tax Department would become the first awarded in the project.

Proposals for aerial photographing of Marion, Marshall and Berkeley counties have been submitted.

E. G. Haislop, director of equalization in the tax agency, said these proposals for mapping have been tentatively accepted.

Marion County — Emmett M. Rogers of Waynesburg, Pa., $87,500; Marshall — American Air Surveys, Inc. of Pittsburgh, $85,500; and Berkeley — Keystone Mapping Co., York, Pa., $59,135.

Jobless Pay Fund Balance Dipping

CHARLESTON (AP)—Employment Security Director Henry L. Ash reported yesterday that the balance in the state's unemployment compensation fund continued to decline last week, dropping $884,167 to $39,841,890.

If the fund sinks below 50 million dollars, then participating employers are automatically assessed at the maximum contribution rate, regardless of experience rating, until the fund goes back over the 50-million mark.

New claims for unemployment benefits, however, dropped 26.1 per cent last week, Ash reported. Total claims showed a slight decrease of 1.9 per cent from the previous week.

All claims last week totaled $1,509, a drop from the $2,110 recorded for the previous week. The state agency paid out $955,537 in benefits last week, a drop of $90,154 from the previous week.
